

Engage your Workplace

Workplace Giving

Ask your employer to encourage staff to join Variety's Workplace Giving Program. For only a few dollars each pay, you can give kids who are sick, disadvantaged or have a disability the support they otherwise would not receive, to overcome whatever obstacles are thrown their way and reach their full potential – just as all kids should! Your donation would be deducted from pre-tax earnings, reducing your taxable income and the total donation amount included in your annual PAYG payment summary. Share with your colleagues about this great way of supporting kids.

If you would like more information to take to your employer, submit a request. If your organisation doesn't have a Workplace Giving program, you can still contribute regular donations by setting up regular payments through our regular giving program or on your online fundraising page.

Matched Giving

Explain to your employer you would like to fundraise for Variety - the Children's Charity of Queensland, to raise funds to help kids who are sick, disadvantaged or have a disability.

Ask if they might consider matching your donations or making a one - off donation.

Fundraise in the workplace

Host fundraising activities in the workplace. Our Community Fundraising Coordinator can provide some useful resources to help with fundraising efforts. This can be a great way to increase staff engagement

Fundraising ideas might include:

- Bake sale morning tea
- Casual dress day/dress-up
- In - office fitness challenge
- Trivia competitions
