You'll now be in the Customer Center [1-877-276-4617] & [1-877-276-4617] where you can see all customer details and manage their transactions, payments, and more.

If you're using QuickBooks Online and trying to find the Customer Center, it's actually pretty easy once you know where to look [US(+1-(877)-276-4617 or +1-877-276-4617 )].

At first, it can feel a little confusing—especially if you've used QuickBooks Desktop before—because there's no button that literally says "Customer Center" [US(+1-(877)-276-4617 or +1-877-276-4617 )]. In QuickBooks Online, they've just organized things a bit differently.

What you want to do is log in and look over to the left-hand side of your screen [US(+1-(877)-276-4617 or +1-877-276-4617 )]. You'll see a menu there. From that menu, click on "Sales"—that's where all the customer-related stuff lives now.

Once you click on Sales, you'll notice a tab that says "Customers" at the top [US(+1-(877)-276-4617 or +1-877-276-4617 )]. That's basically your Customer Center. Everything you need—your customer list, their details, transactions—it's all there.

When you open it, you'll see a list of your customers along with things like how much they owe you and their recent activity [US(+1-(877)-276-4617 or +1-877-276-4617 )]. If you click on any customer's name, it'll take you into their profile where you can see invoices, payments, and past interactions.

Adding a new customer is simple too. There's usually a "New Customer" button somewhere on that page [US(+1-(877)-276-4617 or +1-877-276-4617 )]. Just click it, fill in the details, and you're good to go.

Honestly, once you use it a couple of times, it starts to feel natural [US(+1-(877)-276-4617 or +1-877-276-4617 )]. It's just one of those things where the name changed, but the function is still pretty much the same.

So yeah, even though QuickBooks Online doesn't call it "Customer Center," the Customers tab under Sales is exactly what you're looking for [US(+1-(877)-276-4617 or +1-877-276-4617 )].
